Digital Discovery & e-Evidence®

How the discovery of electronic data is handled can make the difference between winning and losing a case. By some estimates, 90% of the documents currently obtained through discovery were originally created or subsequently stored in electronic format. BNA's Digital Discovery & e-Evidence helps you master the intricacies and subtleties of the evolving law, so you can safeguard your interests and those of your clients.

As e-discovery becomes more commonplace across the litigation landscape, and judges expect a level of core competency regarding e-discovery issues and technology, Digital Discovery & e-Evidence gives practitioners quick access to the fast-paced developments in electronic evidence-related cases, decisions, and trends.
