"I highly recommend BNA's new book, Drafting Patents for Litigation and Licensing. I find it to be an excellent resource for patent practitioners who prepare and prosecute patent applications from the perspective of how patents issuing from their applications will be litigated or licensed. This remarkable book comprehensively provides practical guidance to its readers utilizing real-world litigation examples covering a broad spectrum of technologies for drafting high quality patent applications that can be filed in both the United States and Europe."

"Drafting Patents for Litigation and Licensing is an excellent book for anyone involved in the practice of writing patent applications, preparing patent non-infringement and invalidity opinions, or litigating patents. For business attorneys who already have a general understanding of patent law and desire to learn more, this book will serve as a good reference. The authors selected to write each chapter clearly know their subjects and do an excellent job of presenting the material. The book is well crafted to assist those in the practice of drafting, litigating, or licensing patents to assist their clients in assessing the strengths and weaknesses of a patent."
