

Legal Operations & Technology

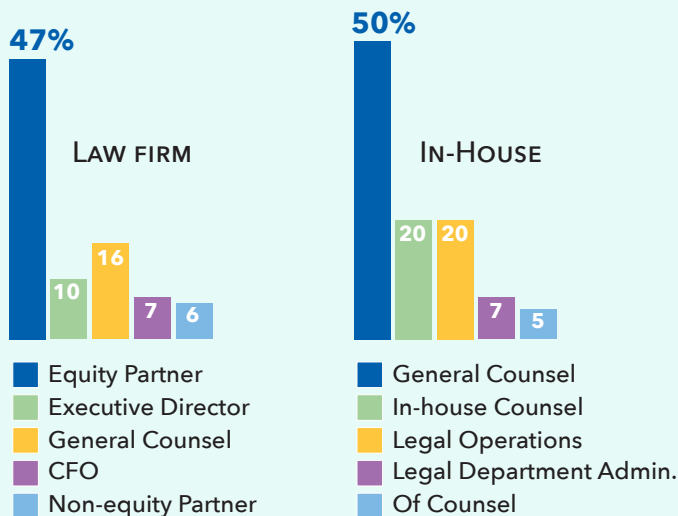

Bloomberg Law surveyed nearly 500 in-house and law firm practitioners.

Their responses provide insight into the rapidly evolving field of legal operations and technology. The survey included detailed questions about the purpose and scope of legal operations, the use, development, and spend associated with adoption or creation of new legal technologies, and the divisions between company and law firm mindsets. This executive summary highlights the overarching trends in the data.

Who directs legal operations?

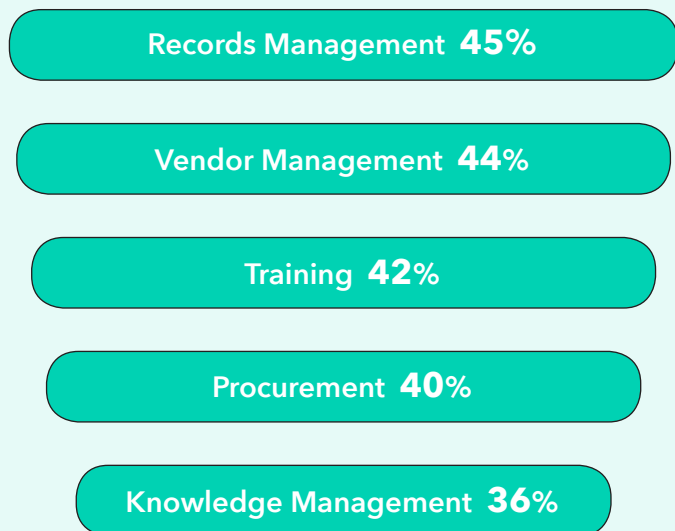

89% of survey respondents have a legal operations function.

Top titles who direct the legal operations function

Scope of Legal Operations Oversight

The legal operations function often has multiple responsibilities within a single organization.

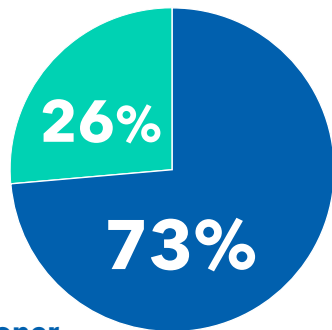

PROFILE of PARTICIPATING RESPONDENTS

In which of the following areas of law do you or your attorneys practice?

Which of the following best describes the type of organization in which you work?

128 respondents
Corporation or other non-law firm entity

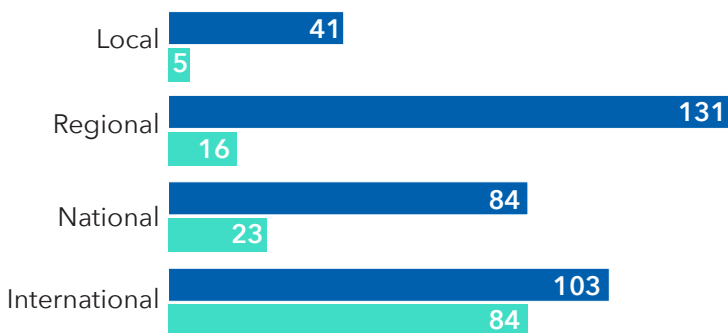

359 respondents
Law firm or Sole Practitioner

Law firm	354
Sole Legal Practitioner	5
Corporation	120
Not-for-profit/Association	4
Government	2
Alternative Legal Service Provider	1
Other	1

What is the geographic scope of your office's practice?

■ Law Firms ■ Corporations

Average Size of Responding Organization

