Comprehensive Coverage, Intuitively Organized

Bloomberg Law for HR Professionals provides an easy-to-use interface that organizes information intuitively. Find answers faster with natural language search and search results curated by editorial experts.

On the homepage, navigate effortlessly from our robust offering of Manuals and treatises to Practical Guidance to federal, state, and local primary sources. Dig deeper into critical topics with State Chart Builders or get an at-a-glance topical view with quick reference charts.

From the homepage, you can submit a Salary Request to benchmark rates for a specific job. You can also submit a Custom Research Request to Bloomberg Law experts. HR Professional Learning will keep you up-to-date on new developments and provide SHRM and HRCI credit.

Expert Analysis

Bloomberg BNA Expert Analysis - such as HR Policy Handbook, HR Practitioners Guide, and EEO Compliance Manual - provide detailed, comprehensive analysis of critical legal issues that will help you manage everyday tasks, develop legally compliant policies and programs, and enable your organization to avoid the risk of litigation.

Find the legal analysis you need with authoritative Bloomberg Law treatises, including coverage of FMLA, FLSA, employment discrimination, and occupational safety and health.

Stay up to speed with the latest developments affecting HR practitioners. Our strategic White Papers run the gamut of topics affecting HR practitioners, from diversity to compensation to benefits. Our exclusive Surveys and Reports, such as the HR Departments Benchmarks and Analysis™, help you identify trends and define best practices for your organization.
Essential Primary Sources

Our federal and state law summaries provide access to relevant statutory codes and regulations, state and local laws, and select federal agency materials. Use state search to identify relevant state compliance requirements - across multiple jurisdictions - via a topical search. State Chart Builders and Local Quick Reference Charts allow you to dig deeper and quickly compare state and local laws across a broad array of topics.

Practice Tools

Bloomberg Law includes sample forms designed specifically for HR professionals; federal compliance checklists; mandatory federal forms; and mandatory federal notices. Federal Law Summaries are topically organized and cover a range of issues from genetic information bias to confidential and proprietary information, including the governing federal laws.

Bloomberg Law for HR Professionals also features step-by-step Practical Guidance, including overviews, forms, and checklists for issues such as managing leave, verification of employment eligibility, and wage and hour compliance. It also includes sample policies on topics such as social media and FMLA.
International

Bloomberg Law for HR Professionals pulls together critical international HR coverage, including:

- International Country Primers
- International Housing Cost Data and Developing Country Salary Data
- International Chart Builders covering more than 85 international jurisdictions and topics from hiring to privacy to personal taxes

News

Bloomberg Law’s Human Resources news will help ensure you and your staff can meet everyday challenges and long-term planning and policy-making goals with the latest on changes in laws, strategic insights on HR developments, and practical information.
