Before selecting or editing email updates, you must have created and signed into an Account Profile. Don’t have an Account Profile? Click Account Profile on the menu bar to create one. Follow the on-screen steps. For additional information on signing up for email updates, click FAQ on the BNA Email Registration menu bar.

Note: The Environment & Safety Resource Center™ and Daily Environment Reporter™ are used for illustrative purposes. The principles are the same for all Bloomberg BNA products.

1. To sign up for or modify the current email updates, click Sign up for email updates on the banner.

2. On the Email Registration screen, select/deselect the emails of interest.

3. Some selections offer the option of additional customization. To select the customization option, click the Customize Now button.

4. Select from the available customization options, and be sure to click Save in order for the selection(s) to process.

5. Click Email sign in to return to the BNA Email Registration screen.

Click the Info icon for detailed information.

Note: To remove a title from the Your Selections column, or a customization option from the Your Custom Selections column, click the X to the right of the title or topic etc.
The Updates are delivered to the email address of the account profile used to sign in. There are direct links to Manage your email subscriptions, View publication in your browser, go to the PUBLICATION HOME page, and CONTACT US.
